

The Magic Day... You Found the Will to Win!

Walk Tall... Stand Proud

You've taken the time to make the time for reasons plain and obscure,
To attend this full-on seminar to dare and to open a door,
To build and boost a better life to help the mind's eye see,
That there's never been a single lock... that didn't have a key.

To set your sights on goals undreamt and to light the mighty foundries,
That flare inside the arteries when you overrun the boundaries,
You now know you can do it, can't you feel that extra lift?
That extra shot of attitude, the athlete calls "the gift".

For belief will bring the courage and the zest to "punch the air",
And work the wind beneath your wings to Advance Australia Fair.
Let's break free from the shackles and grab that grandeur from within,
And make today... the Magic Day... You Found the Will to Win.

Focus down on your personal goals and set about to fashion
The greatest life imaginable... and power it with passion,
Come on! Step up to the challenge. On your marks, mates, now get set,
Persevere, on power steer, for you have to give... to get.

And celebrate the effort and the scent of perspiration,
And treat yourself to a daily dose of undiluted... inspiration,
Seek out strategic alliances and fleet to form your teams,
Remember, fortune flares with favours when you troop and flag your dreams.

Escape now... to extraordinary! For the contract was countersigned,
When you linked great expectations to the turbines of your mind,
Then celebrate those steps you took... to stand out from the crowd,
When you used your time and energy... to Walk Tall and Stand Proud.
